Explanations

English Language

Q.1 · Answer (A) a difficult person or problem

A 'hard nut to crack' is a problem that is difficult to solve, or a person who is difficult to deal with.

Q.2 · Answer (B) were kept

The plural subject 'miscreants' needs a plural verb, and they were acted upon, so the passive: 'were kept in custody'.

Q.3 · Answer (B) Sitab requests Madam to watch that program on their folk songs.

A request is reported with 'requests' and a to-infinitive, and 'our' becomes 'their': 'Sitab requests Madam to watch that program on their folk songs.' With the present-tense 'says', 'this' could strictly have stayed, but no other option reports the request: they turn it into a statement or a question, or use 'said to Madam to watch' with 'our' unchanged.

Q.4 · Answer (B) as she always have time to listen and guide

'She' cannot take 'have', and the sentence is in the past: 'as she always had time to listen and guide'.

Q.5 · Answer (B) companionship

'Bonhomie' is cheerful friendliness: 'companionship'.

Q.6 · Answer (B) enlighten

To 'bewilder' is to confuse; its opposite is to 'enlighten', to make clear. 'Confuse' is a synonym.

Q.7 · Answer (A) was engaged

Two subjects joined by 'and' take a plural verb: 'The teacher and her student were engaged'.

Q.11 · Answer (C) To know something thoroughly

To 'know something inside out' is to know it thoroughly, in every detail.

Q.12 · Answer (D) The sitar is played very well by Radha.

The simple present 'plays' becomes 'is played', with the object 'the sitar' as the subject: 'The sitar is played very well by Radha.'
