Explanations

Part-A-General Intelligence and Reasoning

Q.5 · Answer (B) Shoal

A group of elephants is a herd, and a group of fish is a 'shoal'.

Part-B-General Knowledge and General awareness

Q.1 · Answer (D) Ashwini Vaishnaw

Ashwini Vaishnaw held both the Communications and the Electronics and Information Technology portfolios in November 2022, and still when the exam was held (February 2023); he had held them, with Railways, since July 2021.

Q.4 · Answer (C) phosphorus

Phosphorus, as phosphate, is the key part of ATP (adenosine triphosphate), the molecule cells use to store and pass on energy; the energy is released when a phosphate group is split off.

Q.7 · Answer (C) United States of America

The Fundamental Rights in Part III of the Constitution were modelled on the Bill of Rights of the United States Constitution.

Q.10 · Answer (D) State Highways

State Highways connect a state's capital with its district headquarters and are built and maintained by the state's Public Works Department. District Roads link a district's headquarters with other places in the district.

Q.16 · Answer (A) Due to the decomposition of silver chloride into silver and chlorine by light

SSC's key gives the decomposition of silver chloride by light: sunlight splits it into grey silver and chlorine ($2AgCl \rightarrow 2Ag + Cl_2$), as NCERT explains it. That decomposition is strictly also a redox change (silver ions are reduced and chloride ions oxidised), but the key's option names the actual process.

Q.19 · Answer (D) mineral-based

Industries are classed by their raw material: the iron and steel industry, like cement and aluminium, uses minerals (iron ore, coking coal, limestone) and is mineral-based, while cotton and jute textiles and sugar are agro-based.

Part-D-English

Q.1 · Answer (A) before

The opposite of 'after' is 'before': one should not try to walk before one can crawl, that is, before mastering the basics.

Q.2 · Answer (A) Do something immediately without hesitation

To do something 'at the drop of a hat' is to do it at once, without hesitating.

Q.3 · Answer (A) accepted; expected

To 'accept' a gift is to take it, and to 'expect' money from someone is to look forward to receiving it. 'Except' means to leave out, which fits neither blank.

Q.4 · Answer (C) Unanimous

The correct spelling is 'unanimous', meaning agreed by everyone.

Q.5 · Answer (B) Probable

Something 'on the cards' is likely to happen: 'probable'.

Q.6 · Answer (B) remains

The relative clause refers to the singular 'one thing' and states a lasting truth ('cannot be taken away'), so it takes the singular simple present 'remains'.

Q.7 · Answer (D) because it's starting to make weird noises
'Has' as a helping verb takes a past participle ('has started'), never the bare -ing form; the present continuous 'it is starting', shortened to 'it's starting', says what the car has begun to do now.

Q.8 · Answer (C) misery
'Despair' is the complete loss of hope, a state of great unhappiness: 'misery'. 'Hope' and 'contentment' are nearly its opposites.

Q.9 · Answer (C) Free
To 'liberate' is to set free, so 'free' is the word in the sentence closest to it in meaning; 'clutches' and 'slavery' name what one is freed from.

Q.10 · Answer (B) painting by herself
'By herself' (alone, without help) needs the reflexive pronoun, which agrees with 'Rosie'; the gerund 'painting' follows 'the field of'.

Q.11 · Answer (A) Crudeness
'Courtesy' is polite, considerate behaviour; its opposite is 'crudeness', rudeness or a lack of refinement. 'Generosity' is close to it in spirit.

Q.12 · Answer (C) Gloomy
'Cheerless' means dull and depressing: 'gloomy'. 'Bright' is nearly its opposite.

Q.13 · Answer (B) poured the contents
The instructions are in the imperative, and 'and' joins two commands, so both verbs take the base form: 'open the packet and pour the contents'.

Q.14 · Answer (D) Discersive
'Discersive' is misspelt: the word is 'discursive', meaning moving from one subject to another.

Q.15 · Answer (D) Malevolent
'Benevolent' means kind and well-meaning; its opposite is 'malevolent', wishing harm to others. 'Benign' and 'magnanimous' are close to 'benevolent'.

Q.16 · Answer (C) produced
SSC's key gives 'produced': an effect is usually said to be 'produced on' the mind. 'Created' is close in meaning and arguable, though it suggests an effect someone sets out to make; 'appeared' has no passive to go with 'by travelling', and 'ingrained' means fixed deep, not caused.

Q.17 · Answer (B) interest
'Objects of interest' are the sights worth seeing, such as the temples and galleries the passage goes on to list.

Q.19 · Answer (C) rushes through
He wants to get the sightseeing over 'as quickly as possible', so he 'rushes through' the city. 'Visits' says nothing of that haste, 'browses through' suggests a leisurely look, and 'comes across' means finds by chance.

Q.20 · Answer (C) unceremonious
'Unceremonious' means hasty and without proper attention, the way he hurries through each city. 'Disinterest' is a noun, 'lack lustre' (lacklustre) means dull rather than hurried, and 'nonchalant' (calmly unconcerned) misses his haste.
